DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 27-30 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Neither reference cited below claims the specific parameter of a "resin composition" as defined in the instant Specification at page 6 (line 20) through page 7 (line 4). Only the claims may be considered in the application of references in double patenting situations, as follows.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-20 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-15 of U.S. Patent No. 6,555,649 B2. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims recite "a total phenolic content from about 35% to about 80% (w/w)" which embraces the "total phenolic content from about 30% to about 80% (w/w)", but is not identical. Further, claim 2 recites "a pH from about 2.0 to about 3.0" which embraces the "pH from about 2.0 to about 5.0" the patent recites in claim 1. Likewise, there is overlap for the values of "average molecular weight (wet)/(dry) of from about (250-350)/(280-380) Daltons" as recited in instant claim 3 with "average molecular weight (wet)/(dry) of from about (250-450)/(300-500) Daltons" recited in claim 1 of the patent. Claim 2 of the patent shows the contemplated more narrow range.

Claims 1-6 and 21-26 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-12 of U.S. Patent No. 6,326,461 B1. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because, while the reference claim 1 recites that the "processing is performed without adding an organic solvent" that parameter would not be excluded by the language of the instant claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The recitation of the term "pleasant" in claim 1 renders these claims as vague and confusing since the term relates to a sensory experience that is subjective rather than objective. This capacity is in no way quantifiable. The recitation of the term "smoky odor" is deemed permissible, especially in view of the prior art references to odorless compositions. See Rudolphy, newly cited, at column 2 (lines 5 et seq.).
